

Combine two or more sentences from each group by using any pattern.

1. The Mercury Comet was judged the winner. It had ^{with} imitation zebra-skin seat covers. ^{and} It had an eight-ball shift knob.
2. Koko had a great plan to make some money. ^{but} She had financial problems. ^{and} She could not develop her plan.
3. The mixture could not be discussed openly. ^{because} Competitors were curious. ^{and} Corporate spies were everywhere.
4. Babette's bowling ball is special. It is red and green. ^{and} It is decorated with her phone number in metal-flake.
5. ^{Although} The young bagpiper liked Scottish food. ^{and} He enjoyed doing Scottish dances. ^{and} Wearing a kilt in winter left him cold.
6. Ruby missed the alligator farm. She fondly remembered the hissing and snapping of the beasts as they scrambled for raw meat. ^{but} Her neighbors were indifferent to the loss.
7. ^{Although} Many people are pleased to purchase items with food preservatives. ^{because} Others are fearful. ^{because} They think these chemicals may also preserve consumers.
8. Leewan loves her new in-line roller skates. ^{because} They look and perform much like ice skates. ^{but} They are not as safe as her conventional roller skates.
9. Fish sold at Discount Fish Market were not of the highest quality. ^{and} Some of them had been dead for days without refrigeration. [;] They were suitable only for bait.
10. Cliff wanted to impress his date. ^{so} He splashed on six ounces of He-Man cologne. ^{and} He put on his motorcycle leathers and a flying scarf.