Course Description: Basic economic principles with particular emphasis on microeconomic theory and problems are studied. Among other topics studied: graphs, supply, demand, price system, and resource allocation, distribution of income, socioeconomic problems, international trade, economic development, and comparative economic systems.
Course Goals: The successful student will be able to:
1. Demonstrate an understanding of and the importance of economic concepts in everyday life
2. Analyze, synthesize, and apply economic concepts and principles.

Course Learning Objectives. Chapter objectives will be available on my web page, or by request.

Course Outline. The course will be divided into three units.

Unit I. Chapters 1, 2, 3, & 6
Unit II. Chapters 7, 8, 9, 10, & 11.
Unit III. Chapters 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23.

Course schedule is attached.

Please be sure to read each chapter’s preview and summary and learn the chapter’s objectives. You are responsible for appendices and reading questions for thought and discussion, as well as the problems at the end of each chapter.

We will cover one to two chapters a week.

Student Participation: Staying ahead of the instructor in terms of preparing for every lecture. This means reading the appropriate material in the text and doing the end of chapter problems.

Attendance Policy Attendance is crucial to understanding the subject matter of the course since text and lecture often complement each other. Frequent attendance will be taken. More than 4 absences may result in having to drop the course. Your last opportunity to withdraw from this course is April 6, 2010. It is your responsibility to notify me of any impending absences. You can reach me a number of ways - (a) Speak to me after class; (b) Call 968-8278; (c) E-mail me; (d) Visit my office, Penn Hall 247 (e) Leave a note underneath my office door.
ALL cell phones, pagers, and electronic devices must be turned OFF during class time. Please be considerate of your instructor and fellow classmates!

Disability Accommodations:
In compliance with the Bucks County Community College policy and equal access laws, appropriate academic accommodations can be made for students eligible for such support. Students are encouraged to register with the Disability Services Office (215-968-8463) to verify their eligibility for appropriate accommodations. Please speak to your instructor about any requests for academic accommodations or other concerns as early in the semester as possible.

Cheating & Plagiarism:
The expectation at Bucks County Community College is that the principles of truth and honesty will be rigorously followed in all academic endeavors. This assumes that all work will be done by the person who purports to do the work without unauthorized aids. In addition, when making use of language and some idea not his or her own, whether quoting them directly or paraphrasing them into his or her own words, the student must attribute the source of the material in some standard form, such as naming the source in the text or offering a footnote. (Source: BCCC Catalog, College Policy Regarding Cheating and Plagiarism)

Student’s Responsibility to Retain Course Materials
Students are always responsible for retaining copies of their own work and/or correspondence, including that posted to a web course space. Student access to a Bucks County Community College web course space is available only during the stated semester/session as indicated by the College’s academic calendar. All web course sites, including content, are routinely removed from the server at the conclusion of each semester/session.

Tutoring Center: Additional help is available at the tutoring center.
